

In the spotlight...Rob Moore

Q. What is your role at Method?

A. I am a Building Services Engineer in our Bristol office

Q. What does a typical day look like for you?

A. A difficult question...no two days are ever the same at Method. I can find myself beginning the day either in the office firing off emails, or on-site watching our design get installed first hand. Regardless of where I begin the day, it will normally consist of meeting with architects, structural engineers, clients etc. or working closely with other colleagues in either the Bristol or Swindon office.

Q. What is the favourite part about working for Method?

A. The people I get to work with, and the great variety of projects I get to design. The coffee is pretty good too!

Q. Three words to describe Method?

A. Exciting, innovative, edgy

Q. What drew you to Method originally?

A. The great opportunities available, particularly for young engineers who would like more responsibility in their job role. In recent months the Bristol office has taken on some much bigger projects which I can't wait to get my teeth into.

Q. Before working at Method, what was the most unusual or interesting job you've ever had?

A. I worked on a proposed refurbishment for the Centre for Ecology and Hydrology Grodome. This was a particularly interesting (and challenging) scheme, trying to design multiple side-by-side growing chambers that each have their own conditions i.e. differing humidity, temperature and light

Q. What would you do (for a career) if you weren't doing this?

A. Growing up I always wanted to be a pilot. So that or a lighting engineer for music events.

Q. What advice do you have for prospective Method candidates?

A. We're always on the lookout for talent – not just the next building services/sustainability prodigy but also someone that will fit well into the team.

and the fun questions!

Q. Any favourite line from a movie?

A. "it's just the one killer actually" – PC Danny Butterman, Hot Fuzz

Q. What do you always want to try and never did?

A. Snowboarding...however there are plans in motion for the next ski season

Q. What is an ability you wish you had?

A. Bernard's watch would handy. A bit more time to focus on lots of different things both in work and in my leisure time. Think of all those impromptu naps!

Q. What is the first thing you would buy if you won the lottery?

A. Pagani Zonda Revolution. And a big husky.

Q. What is your biggest pet peeve?

A. Asterisked words that don't have the definition at the bottom of the page – Looking at you high street banks and your ISA brochures.
